POSITIVITY PROJECT	CAMPUS HIGHLIGHTS	DETENTION & RESPONSIBILITY ROOM
OPM: Identify and Appreciate the Good in Others Identifying and appreciating the good in others is a core tenet of the Other People Mindset. This isn't always what comes naturally. Often, it's easier to blame others for our problems or find flaws in others to use as excuses for our own jealousy, bitterness, or resentment. The problem is that this negativity usually leads to problems -- for ourselves, for the other person, and for our relationships. Identifying and appreciating the good in other people helps you see the world through a more positive -- and less threatening -- lens. If you're constantly seeing the negative traits of people, you're going to think the world is comprised of bad people -- and you're going to operate from a defensive posture. This isn't to say that we should be naive or see the world, and its people, through "rose-colored glasses." It's just that we should strive to understand people's intent. If you see the good in another, they are likely to see the good in you. Positivity Project, 2021.	WOMEN IN HISTORY MONTH "Helen Keller" Helen Keller was the first deaf and blind person to earn a Bachelor of Arts degree. She wrote several books and campaigned for people with disabilities and women's rights. Five facts about Helen Keller: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Keller had two glass eyes in adulthood. Helen Keller was the first deaf-blind person to write a book, and published 14 books during her life. Keller was known as a left radical of her time – she belonged to the Socialist Party. Keller met every U.S. president of her time. By 16 years of age, Helen could not only read Braille, use the typewriter and write, but she could speak fluently enough to go to college. She graduated from Radcliffe College, "cum laude" in 1904 https://www.lottie.com/blogs/strong-women/helen-keller 	RESPONSIBILITY ROOM: GRADES 1-3: MONDAY-THURSDAY (LUNCH RECESS) GRADES 4-6: MONDAY-THURSDAY (LUNCH RECESS) AFTER SCHOOL DETENTION: ALL GRADES: MONDAY, TUESDAY, AND THURSDAY 2:30 PM-3:30 PM FOLLOW SIERRA VISTA ELEMENTARY:  Sierra Vista Elementary  @sierravista_cusd  sierravista.cusd.com PTC Meeting Tuesday, March 12th 6:00-7:00pm Library  Thank you, Viking families, for your support with our Boots & Bling daughter's event.
