POSITIVITY PROJECT	CAMPUS HIGHLIGHTS	DETENTION & RESPONSIBILITY ROOM
HUMILITY Humble people have an accurate (not underestimated) sense of their abilities and achievements. They hold the capacity to acknowledge their mistakes and limitations and are open to advice and new ideas. They do not show off their possessions or accomplishments. Individuals with this strength are likely to think, feel, or behave in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Actions speak louder than words. • I prefer to let my actions speak for themselves. • An unhealthy craving for awards and accolades will make you less likely to obtain them. • Do what’s expected of you and don’t tell people you did it. • Give credit where credit is due. All achievements take a team effort. • “One-upping” people is sad. If others want to brag, I just let them without needing to talk about myself. The Positivity Project, 2022	BLACK HISTORY HERITAGE MONTH “MARY MCLEOD BETHUNE” Mary McLeod Bethune was an American educator, humanitarian, womanist, civil rights activist, and philanthropist. She was born on July 10, 1875. She was a pioneering educator and college founder who had high standards in education. She also worked as an advisor to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and gave African Americans an advocate in government. She opened a boarding school called the Daytona Beach Literary and Industrial School for training Black American girls in education. She was also a champion of racial and gender equality and founded many organizations. She also led voter registration drives after women in the U.S. gained their right to vote in 1920.
