YOU ARE NOT ALONE.

Clovis Support and Intervention is here for you.

Everyone faces challenges. Whether it is building friendships, adjusting to a new school, dealing with family changes or working through the loss of a loved one, CSI groups can help support students through difficult circumstances.

CSI aims to empower students with skills that will help them grow as individuals, accomplish their goals and face future challenges more effectively. CSI addresses these important life skills and helps students make meaningful connections with peers and trained staff for support along the way.

What is CSI?

CSI is a district wide program offering support groups that focus on listening and communication skills, empathy, acceptance, self-awareness and supporting others.

Trained staff facilitators work to create a safe, positive environment that is supportive and empowering, but do not provide formal counseling or therapy. Facilitators guide students in developing skills, increasing self-awareness, navigating challenges and building hope.

How does CSI work?

- Confidentiality is vital
- Small group setting of 6-10 peers & 2 trained staff facilitators
- One 45-minute session per week for 8 weeks-during the school day
- Guided by proven curriculum
- Groups composed of peers facing similar challenges
- Parent permission is required

Who is CSI for?

Any student can benefit from the support, meaningful connections and listening and communication skills gained through participating in CSI support groups.

We offer nearly 300 groups each year, supporting more than 2000 students across the district!
